

Keep Us Flying High

Engineering Trainee Programme

If you have ever dreamed of applying your engineering talents working on some of the finest aviation technologies in the world, look no further. Our highly respected Engineering Trainee Programme offers engineering graduates the chance to be trained as aviation professionals.

This 33-month programme comprises classroom and on-the-job training, with focuses on providing an all-round exposure to engineering functions together with personal development geared towards each individual. You will also have a chance to gain valuable experience overseas at our outposts, and are given significant hands-on experience at our main engineering facilities in Hong Kong and Xiamen, China.

If you have strong passion on airplanes, you can visit our website for more details about the programme and requirements and apply on-line at <http://careers.cathaypacific.com>.

Deadline of application is 30 November 2009.

Now you're really flying